

Jasper

Rescued: 26th March 2011

Rehomed: 22nd May 2011

Little Jasper was literally thrown into our care when his owners dumped him over the rescue kennel wall in the middle of the night. Because he was only about 6 months old he went straight into a foster home. After some initial anxiety issues Jasper came on in leaps and bounds. In his foster home he was socialised with another dog, 4 cats and children all of which he was brilliant with.

On 22nd May Jasper went to his forever home where he is having a ball. He gets lots of love and attention, is surrounded by lots of toys, enjoys his daily walks and has 2 dogs next door as friends. He has gone from being an anxious little puppy to a happy little lad that likes nothing better than to play tug, chew on a bone and curl up with the cat.

Here are some pictures of Jasper.
